

the lad who is a candidate and is inclined to vacillate, this campaign is the kind that's going to make him rather hot. So the battle rages nightly, sometimes wrong and sometimes rightly and the speeches shoot across the land along the ether way, and the words are warm and warmer to the laborer and farmer, and the weather follows closely for it's sixty four today.

FAMOUS BOULEVARDIER DIES IN PARIS HOME

Former Husband Of Anna Gould Dies In France

Count Boni De Castellane,
Once International
Spendthrift Dies
In Poverty

PARALYTIC STROKE HASTENS DEATH

(International News Service)
PARIS, Oct. 20.—Count Boni De Castellane, former husband of Anna Gould and once famous on two continents as a spendthrift boulevardier, died here today in comparative poverty.

He was 64. He succumbed to a paralytic stroke from which he had been suffering for some time. Complications set in and he hovered on death's edge for more than a week. He lapsed into a coma yesterday, from which he did not recover.

The immediate members of his family were present at the end, including his mother and two brothers, Jean and Stanislaus.

The Marquis De Castellane, better known in America as Count Boni De Castellane, Anna Gould's first husband, and once the most talked of spendthrift of modern times, ended his life as he began it—in an atmosphere of genteel poverty.

A modern Beau Brummel, suave, sophisticated and aristocratic in bearing, "Boni" went to America in the latter part of the nineteenth century boasting of his penury and promising to come back to France with a "dollar princess."

He had hardly landed in New York before he met and fascinated the most conspicuous heiress in sight, the daughter of Jay Gould, multi-millionaire railroad magnate. They were married on March 4, 1895.

At the time of the marriage the new Countess De Castellane was reported to have received a dowry of $30,000,000.

The marriage came to an abrupt end in 1906, when the countess obtained a divorce.

Suddenly deprived of his princely income, "Boni" lived for a while by writing magazine and newspaper articles on "the art of being poor."

In the later years of his life he dabbled in the sale of cosmetics and committed himself to a rigid regime of economy.

support of the Roosevelt ticket in the west will cost in support in the more conservative east. Particularly were they well pleased over Henry Ford's radio broadcast, and they plan to follow that up with other industrialists from now until election day.

A cheerful report was brought to Mr. Hoover by Robert M. Lucas, chairman of the Republican executive committee. He told the president that his election is assured by a minimum of 270 electoral votes, four more than are necessary. The

Special Appeal To Several Classes At Night School

Prof. Lingerman And Prof.
Sheaffer Teach Government And Economics

Among the many subjects being taught in the Unemployed Night school now in progress in the North Street and Lincoln-Garfield schools there are two that have a particular appeal at the present time, Government and Economics. Government is taught in the Lincoln-Garfield school on Wednesday evening by Ralph Lingerman and Economics by O. J. Sheaffer in the North Street school on Tuesday evening, and Miss Virginia Weinschenk in the Lincoln-Garfield school on Wednesday evening.

During the present economic crisis, it is important to know some of the underlying causes for the disaster. Economic laws are immutable and violation of these laws bring economic disaster.

Likewise, during a crisis such as this, the study of government is most timely. Too many citizens regard their duties as citizens too lightly. They have not a sound knowledge of the theory of government nor accurate information concerning the facts. They should understand the structure of their government, national, state and local and all these things are dealt with in the classes mentioned above.

East Side Merchants Will Close Stores

Will Show Respect To J. Alex
Wright, One Of Their Group

East Side merchants between the County Line street and the bridge over the Schuylkill on East Washington street, will on Friday show their esteem for the late J. Alex Wright, one of their number, who has died, by closing their stores from 2 to 3 p. m. during the hour of the funeral services being held for Mr. Wright. Mr. Wright was held in high esteem by all who came in contact with him in a business way and this is being done to show this esteem.

JOBLESS MARCH TOWARD LONDON

marchers, many of them hundreds of miles from their homes, it is feared, may start serious rioting as the only effective means of registering protest against alleged injustices.

Britain's hunger march had a rather different origin than that which sent the B. E. F. to Washington.

The demonstrators are protesting against cuts in the dole, carried out as part of the government's economy measures, and against wage reductions. In addition, they are urging a shorter working week, hoping that distribution of labor may reduce the ranks of the unemployed.

PA NEW OBSERVES

der to fill the creek bed with water and make a more presentable appearance, certainly meets with Pa New's approval. It seems a most feasible suggestion that could be acted upon. The dams would not be big enough to provide any danger of backing water out of the stream.

And this is something you ought not to do: A driver enroute down Highland avenue, below Grant, let his machine ride the car tracks over wet leaves and all. And when he reached Falls it was necessary to stop. He did finally, but for several yards the car glided over the slippery rails completely out of control.

Names Are Added To Proclamation

Error Made In Sending Copy
To Sheriff Frank Johnston,
Is Corrected

Some changes in the election proclamation as posted in the different voting precincts, and as published in The News will be noted, according to Sheriff Frank Johnston. When Johnston received the copy of the proclamation from the secretary of the commonwealth he gave it to the job printers to have the proclamation copies made.

Afterwards the secretary wrote him that the department had made a mistake in the matter of the name of William McElwee, Jr., for assembly in the second district. McElwee's name on the copy as sent listed him as having received only the Republican nomination, whereas he also received the Prohibition.

Later another letter was received stating that the name A. M. Rote, Socialist in the first assembly precinct had been omitted, and also the name of J. A. Phillips, Socialist, in the second precinct. The result was that these names do not appear on the proclamations for posting, but do appear on the proclamation in The News and will appear on the ballots. The mistake was entirely the fault of the department in not sending all of the names for the original copy.

NO ACTION TO CLOSE SCHOOL

Despite rumors concerning the Arthur McGill school, no action has been taken towards closing the building, nor will there be such action taken unless the number of scarlet fever cases increases over what it is now, according to Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools.

"The City Health Director, Dr. W. L. Steen has recommended that the building not be closed," said Dr. Green, "and his reasons are that the possibility of the disease spreading is lessened when an examination is made of the pupils every morning. This we are doing. Dr. Ralph M. Campbell who has charge of the school health during the illness of Dr. Mary J. Baker, and the two school nurses are on duty at the McGill school every morning and see that every youngster is examined. At the first sign of sore throat or the slightest rise in temperature the youngster is sent home."

ROOSEVELT GOES TO INDIANA FOR NEXT ADDRESS

payment until it had balanced its budget, and had a cash surplus, Roosevelt said:

"No one, for political purposes or otherwise has the right in the absence of explicit statement from me to assume that my views have changed. They have not. So much for another effort by Republican leaders to preach an unwarranted gospel of fear and panic to the American electorate."

He asserted that all new items except those relating directly to the relief of unemployment must be eliminated from the federal budget during the present emergency, and he pledged himself, if elected president, to see to it that no one starves even if he has to recommend new taxes.

Proposes Tax on Beer.
Roosevelt's proposal for a tax on beer to balance the budget was received with wild acclaim, and he predicted that if such legislation were enacted it would not be necessary to increase present taxes. He said such a tax would net the government several hundred millions annually.

He proposed reorganization of federal departments and elimination of many boards and commissions as another means of raising several hundred million annually to aid in balancing the budget.

He declared the Hoover administration should be voted out of office because it had not dealt frankly with the people, had concealed the nation's real financial condition and had abused confidence.

He ridiculed the Republican "alibi" that the depression was due to a "foreign cause."

"We do not need to look abroad for scapegoats because we have plenty of them in this country," Roosevelt said.

"We had ventured into the economic sphere on the wings of President Hoover's novel, radical and unorthodox economic theories of 1928—the complete collapse of which brought the real crash in 1929."

LOCAL YOUTH WILL FACE ENTRY CHARGE

Arrested by city police early today after allegedly breaking and entering the home of Steve Travers at 314 South Walnut street, Paul Steele of County Line street today was held in $500 bond pending a hearing today before Alderman Wallace J. Ewing on a breaking and entering charge.

Steele, it is said, was nabbed by Travers at the home and held until police came. Travers filed the charge.

Best Remedy for Cough Is Easily Mixed at Home

Saves $2. So Easy! No Cooking!
You'll never know how quickly a stubborn cough can be conquered, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive relief. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made by mixing 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This saves two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough medicine, and gives you a purer, better remedy. It never spoils, and tastes fine. Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm, clears the air passages, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in severe coughs.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, used for generations for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Deaths of the Day

W. H. Cade Funeral.
Funeral services for William H. Cade, East Brook, were held from the home of his son on Dewey avenue Wednesday afternoon with Rev. Thomas Follard of the East Brook Methodist church officiating.

Interment was made in Briar Hill cemetery. Pallbearers were A. Fullwood, H. McCaslin, A. McCracken, D. Black, E. Patterson and N. McCaslin.

Mrs. Helen Wallace Thomson.
Mrs. Helen Wallace Thomson, aged 36, wife of Harry M. Thomson, died at her home in Frizzleburg Wednesday evening following an illness of ten days from typhoid fever.

She was born in Pulaski township April 27, 1896, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wallace.

She is survived by her husband, her mother, Mrs. Jane Justice Wallace; five children, David, Margaret, Frances, Jean and Laura Ann; three brothers, Ross, Robert and Wylie Wallace, New Bedford.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the New Bedford U. P. church, of which she was a member, with the pastor, Rev. Henry Ostermeier officiating. Interment will be made in the New Bedford cemetery.

Daniel M. Richeal.
Daniel M. Richeal, aged 86, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Douth, 705 West avenue, after an illness due to his advanced age, Wednesday shortly after noon.

He was born in Mercer county March 25, 1845, and had been a farmer by occupation. He was preceded in death 15 years ago by his wife.

Mr. Richeal is survived by his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Douth; a son, N. Manning of New Jersey; a half-brother and two half-sisters.

He will be at Richeal's funeral home, South Mill street, until time for the funeral services, which will be Friday at 2:30 from the Central Presbyterian church with Dr. C. B. Winger in charge.

John F. Modliszewski.

No funeral arrangements have been made.

Mr. Rodawalt's Funeral.
Funeral services for the late Charles W. Rodawalt were held at the Coaltown Free Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. George Burke in charge and assisted by Fred Smith. The services were very largely attended.

Several selections were sung by John Moore and Mr. and Mrs. T. Smith. The pallbearers were William Sankey, William Douglas, W. V. Brooks, Louis B. Black, Bryan Morris and Albert Smith. Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

Time Of Funeral.
Funeral services for John Alexander Wright will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 from the Third United Presbyterian church, with Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor, officiating.

Interment will be made in Graceland cemetery.

MAY DENY LIBBY HOLMAN RIGHT TO COURT ACQUITTAL

seems reasonable to suppose that he will come into court and ask that the indictment be nolle prossed.

This would just mean an indefinite adjournment. The indictment would be put on the shelf, the investigation continued, and, if evidence now lacking were to be discovered, Libby could be put on trial later.

Defense Plans Fight

Under the criminal procedure of North Carolina, the nolle prossing of an indictment does not kill it. This merely means that it is filed away until new evidence is uncovered, then dusted off and placed back in the court docket.

Libby's counsel, Benet Polikoff and William Graves, are proceeding on the theory that their client will be brought to trial, and are preparing themselves accordingly. Under instructions from Libby, they will fight any move by the state to nolle pross the indictment.

'Singin' School' Is Coming Back

Music To Be Taught At Night School Following Many Requests

Back in the days "When You and I Were Young Maggie," one of the bright spots in living was the old-fashioned "Singin' School."

It was the meeting place of everybody. Som of the folks went to sing, others to hear the singing, and still others to hold hands. It provided a common ground for the common people to meet upon and the passing of the "Singin' School" saw one of the old-fashioned American customs pass out.

But wait. The "Singin' School" is coming back. Here in New Castle. Because of the request of many who enrolled in the Unemployed Night School, it has been installed as one of the courses but call it a music class or a course in music appreciation, call it anything you please, it is still the old time "Singin' School" and tonight it opens in the Lincoln-Garfield school.

The class or school or what you will, will be in charge of Margaret Preston and the probabilities are that there will be a heavy enrollment in the class. Folks like to sing and when they can get together in a group and have the advantage of a competent teacher, it just adds to the fun.

Attendance At Night School Is Still On Increase

Hundred And Twenty More
Enroll At Session
Last Night

One hundred and twenty more women presented themselves in the North street school building Wednesday night when the first Wednesday night class in the unemployed night school was held. Of this number, 35 were in the public speaking class taught by Miss Mildred Burleson, 33 in the English grammar class taught by Miss Mary Purdie, 28 in the Spanish class taught by Miss Elizabeth Williams and 24 in the French class taught by Miss Ethel Kelley.

One of the interesting observations on the unemployed night school is the number of cultural studies that have been asked for by students. Languages, public speaking, literature, mathematics, these are attracting the larger groups of students.

In the Lincoln-Garfield school 75 students were in attendance. Of this number 45 were in the business practice class taught by Robert Mills, 16 in the advanced English class taught by Miss Frances Haydon, 8 in the economics class taught by Miss Virginia Weinschenk and 5 in the government class taught by Ralph Lingerman.

Tonight in the North street school the following subjects will be presented: Arithmetic by J. W. Anderson, English literature by Miss Agnes Webster, economics by O. J. Sheaffer and German by Miss Mary Riffer.

In the Lincoln-Garfield school the following subjects will be presented: Latin by Miss May Eakin, writing by Miss Mildred Updegraff, psychology by Miss Adeline Miller and singing school by Miss Margaret Preston.

The attendance is keeping up at a high figure, although there is room for many more students. They can enroll in the class they wish at the beginning of school in either the North street or the Lincoln-Garfield schools.

Gerard Terborch was one of the most eminent genre and portrait painters of the Dutch school.

SHENANGO CHAPTER
PARTIES SUCCESS

Wednesday was a busy day for social activities and three of the series parties planned by Shenango Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Mrs. Charles E. Allen, worthy matron, were held.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Fred R. Hutchinson of 238 Fairmont avenue, entertained in her home a number of the star members, with her sister, Mrs. A. E. Hillman as associate hostess.

Seven tables of cards were in play, Mrs. Frank Oen being successful in winning the bridge prize and the Mrs. Wilbur Wilson in 500. The serving of a delicious lunch by the hostesses brought the event to a close.

In the evening, Miss Marjorie Rhodes and Mrs. Charles H. Young entertained jointly at the home of the former, 122 Englewood avenue, another gathering of their associates. Bridge and 500 were the pastimes featured with seven tables in progress. The bridge honors were held by Miss Sara Dinsmore, Mrs. O. J. Shaffer and Miss Mary Long, for which they were awarded lovely prizes and in the 500 contest, Mrs. Sian Trester was the recipient of the trophy. The hostesses were assisted in serving a very delicious collation by the Misses Margaret Young and Lois Martin at a late hour.

Another evening party was that held in the home of Mrs. Albert Klingensmith on North Mercer St., having as her associate hostess, Mrs. Ruth Irwin. Three tables of bridge were in progress, two of 500, and another table of miscellaneous games for those not desiring to participate in the cards contests. Prizes at the close of the entertainment were awarded to Mrs. Anna Rowland, Mrs. Ruth Brest, in 500 Mrs. Clara Remley and in other games Mrs. Elora Johnson was given the token for her success.

After the serving of a dainty repast by the hostesses, the guests departed.

There will be more of these parties held at future dates, and thus far, each given has proven a decided success.

On Wednesday, November 9, the club will be received in the home of Miss Mary Whalen, Ray street.

KISER-COTTON
NUPTIALS TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward F. Knoblock of Vine street announce the marriage of their daughter Marguerite Kiser to Floyd L. Cotton of the Frew Mill road.

The ceremony was performed this morning at 11 o'clock with the Rev. Grant Fisher, retired minister of the United Presbyterian church and an uncle of the groom, performing with the ring service.

The bride was attractive in a brown chiffon velvet creation, trimmed with antique lace with shoulder collar, with skirt fashioned on the lines now decreed, and accessories to match.

Later in the day, Mr. and Mrs. Cotton left on a motor trip to New York, Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., and other eastern points. For traveling, the bride chose a traveling suit of grey and black wool tweed with complimentary accessories.

Upon their return, they will be at home to friends on the Frew Mill road. Mr. Cotton conducts the Cotton Dairy at this location.

CANTER BRIDGE CLUB
ENTERTAINS WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Edward Longacre proved a pleasing hostess Wednesday evening to members of the Canter Bridge Club when she entertained at a 6:30 o'clock dinner in a local inn on East North street.

The menu was served at a table prettily arranged centered with a bowl of the season's flowers, and following, the hours were whiled away with a contest in bridge. Lovely prizes were awarded to Miss Ann Fowler and Miss Elma Houk at conclusion of play.

On Wednesday, November 9, the club will be received in the home of Miss Mary Whalen, Ray street.

RECENT BRIDE IS HONORED AT PARTY

Miss Ann Gallagher entertained the Bell Telephone girls at a delightful surprise shower on a recent evening in honor of Mrs. Daniel Quinn, nee Louise McGonigle, a bride of recent date, at the home of Mrs. Mae Alben on Miller avenue.

Cards formed the main pastime. High honors were won by Mrs. Louis Helman, Mrs. Irene Campbell and Mrs. Anne Flynn.

At a suitable time, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Alben and Miss Annabelle Morrissey served a tempting lunch.

When the evening was at its height the honored guest was presented with a collection of gifts to use in her new home.

Special guests present included Miss Elizabeth McDevitt, Mrs. Brady McGonigle, Miss Sarah Flynn, Miss Sarah Cranmer and Miss Helen Sheridan.

During the business session that followed, plans were completed for a tureen dinner to be held with Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Richards as hosts at Cottage Grove, near Wilmington Junction. The menu will be served at 6 o'clock and during the leisure hours, a program of games in charge of Mrs. Brodbeck and Mrs. Walter Gross will be featured. Husbands of the members will be special guests.

ALMIRA LADIES ARE ENTERTAINED AT TEA

Wednesday afternoon the members of the Baird Missionary society of the Highland U. P. church were hostesses to the ladies from the Almira Home at a tea.

A brief business meeting was conducted with Mrs. Gayl Blim in the chair. Announcement was made that Dr. Stewart Bergsma, author of this year's study book, will speak at the Highland church, November 14. Mrs. Ray Rhodes gave her plans for the annual silver tea on November 2 and Mrs. Harry Miles brought echoes from the recent rally and Mrs. A. C. Allen had a brief thank offering paper.

Mrs. Lee Allen was in charge of transportation and as the business meeting finished the guests were brought in and greeted by the members. Mrs. Rose Sloan, matron of the Almira Home, and 16 of the residents were present. They were Miss Mary Stewart, Mrs. Mary Cunningham, Miss Hannah McCracken, Miss Margaret Young, Miss Margaret Henderson, Miss Jennie Anderson, Mrs. Phoebe Simons, Mrs. Achsha Hess, Miss Maria McNeese, Mrs. Saundra Brown, Mrs. Isabel Withrow, Mrs. Rilla McDonald, Mrs. Carrie Glendenning, Mrs. Emma Greeley, Miss Alice Black and Mrs. Margaret Anderson.

After greetings had been extended the women were escorted to the dining room, where Mrs. L. E. Pyle and her committee had arranged long tables, centered with bowls of flowers and at the place of each guest, a centerpiece was placed and refreshments were served.

Mrs. Fred Brown was in charge of the program which had been arranged for the entertainment of the women. Mrs. Thomas Lindsey gave a tribute to Miss Hallie Leslie, who had been a resident of the home and also a member of the Highland church, who passed on during the past year. Marjorie Blim gave a reading, "My Aunt's Bonnet"; Betty Brown recited "Whispering"; Sophia Buchner, accompanied by her sister, gave two violin numbers; Doris Leddy gave a reading, "In a Fullman"; Sarah Nitsche and Phyllis Elder sang a duet, accompanied by Mrs. James A. Hewitt.

Temoy McPate gave a reading "Housecleaning"; a group of boys from Arthur McGill school had a juggling act; Leah Davis gave a reading, "We Killed the Bear"; and the program closed with a minute by Lois Leddy, accompanied by Mrs. Hewitt.

After a period of getting acquainted the women were then returned to the home.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY
FITTINGLY OBSERVED

Little did Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Shuttleworth of 134 Fairmont avenue, suspect the friends they invited into their home Tuesday evening to participate at a Halloween party, would turn the event into a surprise party as a means of observing their tenth wedding anniversary.

The Shuttleworths had their home decorated in rustic tones of the season, with witches, goblins and other weird objects placed about, which greeted their friends who came attired in costumes of every description. After the guessing game "Whose-Who" had been completed, their masks were removed and a program of dancing and other diversions were in vogue.

When the evening was at its height, the guests took charge of the program, and completely surprised their hosts by announcing it being their tenth wedding anniversary, and presenting them with many lovely remembrances.

A tempting lunch was served, Mrs. Shuttleworth being assisted by Mrs. J. H. Shaffer, her mother, Mrs. William Driver and Mrs. A. L. Mergel, bringing the evening to a close.

COMMON SENSE

THE vast majority of business men in the United States believe that business is on the up-grade. They believe also that the measures devised by President Hoover and authorized by Republicans and Democrats at the late session of Congress are essential factors in the upturn, and that the continued and uninterrupted functioning of these measures which are now being directed through a bi-partisan administrative personnel is essential to the continuation of recovery now in progress.

This being true it is not plain common sense to believe that on the morning after election, if the news is Hoover, the program will go right on under full steam without a hitch, every officer in the structure confident, serene, enthusiastic and energetically absorbed in his task?

And is it not equally common sense to believe that on the morning after election, if the news is Roosevelt, every officer in the structure, no matter how loyally and forcefully Mr. Hoover from November to March may strive to maintain morale and performance, will be let down into a state of doubt, worry, enervation, distraction and loss of vim? Isn't it inevitable that such a sudden application of the brakes would hold down the velocity of the remedial exertions from election day to far past March 4, until the Roosevelt changes of personnel—partisan and factional—had been digested and assimilated; the agony almost certainly complicated with an extra session of Congress to tinker with the mechanism?

Such a let down as would unquestionably follow a change of administration, lasting at best for six to nine months and in all probability continuing for four years, would be that could happen to a man out of a job, to a business man two jumps ahead of bankruptcy, or to a farmer living on no cash a month while he waits for these others to get incomes with which to buy farm products.

This is not campaign ballyhoo. It is sheer common sense.

STAGG TO RETIRE

News that Amos Alonzo Stagg will retire next June as coach at the University of Chicago is hailed alone by schools whose teams for 40 years have been trying vainly to conquer Chicago U. There have been one or two coaching careers more meteoric but none as consistent as his.

A great player at Yale, where he was twice chosen as an "All-American" team, he has been greater as a coach for 40 years. He has guided the athletic destinies of Chicago since that institution came into being in 1892.

Coach Stagg will leave behind an enviable football record of 243 games won and 28 tied out of a total of 375 contests, but victories were not his only goal on the gridiron. Football was, to him, a means, not an end. He emphasized the values of character that underlie true sportsmanship, using the game to build his boys, not the boys to build a record.

Collegiate football will never be able to detach itself from Stagg, who has placed upon it his indelible stamp. His idealism and leadership are largely responsible for some of the more important reforms which have helped make football the leading scholastic and collegiate sport.

CAUTIONS FOR MOTORIST

The subject of caution in automobile driving has been repeated many times. Yet pedestrians who have narrow escapes, and the careful drivers who are almost smashed up as the result of some speeder's "scorching," will not want the newspapers to stop talking about this thing. They will want the subject drilled into the ears of the public indefinitely.

There are some drivers who are impervious to criticism. About the only way to deal with them is to file a complaint against them, take away their license or otherwise penalize them.

The majority of drivers, however, should be accessible to reason, and should realize that the highways are becoming more crowded every year, and that the degree of caution that was fairly adequate a few years ago, is no longer enough.

Many operators have constantly been doing things which would create an accident if they did not have good luck. If they attempt to pass a car on a curve where their view is hidden, they are likely to have a smash if a car is coming around in the opposite direction at that particular moment. They may do it a number of times and avoid a smash. But if the number of cars has doubled in their locality within the past few years, as it has in most sections, the chance of a collision when they perform that stunt has precisely doubled within that time. If they keep doing that thing, it is practically certain that they will have a smash-up in the near future.

It is a most distressing experience to go through an automobile accident. Those who have injured other people bitterly regret their carelessness if they have been at fault. It is infinitely better to show a pleasant spirit of courtesy, take things easy on the roads, and avoid the regret and loss that must come from a serious accident.

QUESTION FOR VOTERS

The president of a large corporation in Cincinnati writes to the Enquirer of that city saying that while questioning the candidate as to what he will do when he gets into office, it might be well to question the voter as to what he will do to the successful candidate.

This new line of questioning is suggested by the chance that the voter who has marked his ballot based on the pre-election promises of a candidate for reduced public expenditures and taxes will immediately upon election organize a massed assault upon the candidate, demanding favors which entail increased government service and consequent increase in taxes.

The Cincinnati industrialist concludes that the cure for the present condition of affairs can come only through a more thoughtful, enlightened, tolerant and self-controlled electorate that will lend its efforts to preserve government in the form wisely provided in the beginning as a shelter for liberty and opportunity for private enterprise and initiative.

It is essential that the voters make their action after election conform to their pre-election demands.

Business is picking up. People are again worrying about their debts.

As soon as we get rid of the world series, and the election and the football season we will have congress to worry about again. Life is just one thing after another.

One Moment of Discouragement
One Moment of Beauty
And Then Courage Again

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Discouraged, I leaned against an old stone fence and looked across to dead grown hills.

The earth was dull that day and I was dull with it. And everything I saw beat in upon me with the fierceness of the summer sun. It was old land I saw. An old building stood behind me. The dark green trees at my side were dirty with the dust of the roadway. . . . I felt the steepest of things, the end of living. . . .

At my feet a graveyard. Beneath the brown surface of the earth, bodies lay quietly, but not a stone marked the place of their rest. They had been dead so long, those Indians who had gone down so obscurely into the ground. They had lived vigorously, simply, but it had all come to this at last. They were gone and romance and adventure were gone, and the map was worn off the world.

The sun moved downward and the shadows crept out across the dry field beneath me and my eyes followed them to the old hills and went up to their still crests. . . .

Suddenly all seemed alive and wonderful. In the shadows were rich colors. Green and purple and pink and gold and scarlet. And the hills moved in the shimmering late afternoon heat. And a glory came to the earth and the last of the sun's rays touched a shelf on the hills where once the Indians had worshipped strength. And the old church behind me came alive with enduring faith. . . . Something had happened.

Even the dry hills were different now. I could remember them in the spring, all soft and green and living. And they reminded me that his dead moment was but an interval of waiting, and they were more richly alive than I could ever be. I could see strength and feel courage in those mighty hills and they were friendly once again. I had been discouraged. I had been presumptuously arrogantly afraid. And I had been most properly rebuked. . . . And I was glad.

PROVIDING WORK

Are you economizing to an unnecessary extent? There are certain improvements you should make on your property, ones needed not only for appearance sake but for the comfort of your family.

You could easily spare the money to pay for them if you would. Yet you put off having the work done because the spirit of retrenchment is so strongly binding you. You and thousands of others might give employment to mechanics, if you would and it would benefit conditions greatly.

You would be having your work done because the wages are low and the price of material is way down also. Today you can get great value for your dollars when you spend, if you choose wisely.

Hanging on to surplus cash which you do not need to meet the requirements of your remaining years is curtailing the circulation of currency. If you are well fortified financially it is your duty as a good citizen to assist those less fortunate by providing work.

JOY AT THE FORD FACTORY

(The King of Italy has just bestowed the Order of the Crown on Henry Ford.)

Giuseppe Tomassi ees prouda today
He ees dance an' wheestla an'
He ees stoppa hees frand on da corner
to say:

"You reada da news from a Keeng?
Mussolini he tal heem eets tima we showed Henry Forda we love heem a lot.
Eet ees tima on Henry there should be bestowed Da basta gold medal we got."

"Eets orders dat maka da wheels go round,
So senda da reebon an' cross
An' tal heem eet goes wit' esteema profound
To da gooda, da bee-hearited boss.
For da wheez-banga man with da petrola car—
Jus' writta dees sentiment down.
So kinda to Italy's people you are
We make you Knights of da Crown."

"They giva da order. No! notta for cars—
But one he can wear on da coat,
Da crossa—weeth one, two, three beautiful bars
An' reebon to go round da throat.
An' now I care notta when fore-manna swear
Or da front office beeg bossa frown,
To sacka Giuseppe I guess they won't dare
Since Forda is Knight of da Crown."

AMERICANISM: Trying to dodge the pesky life insurance agent; wishing our money had been invested in life insurance instead of that darned stock.

It's no wonder Al Capone thinks he should be out of jail if he reads about the kind of people who are.

The chief trouble is that people don't care who runs the Government so long as they can bum a ride on it.

There has been quite a falling off of men who were advertising that they would not be responsible for any debts contracted by their wives. We never did like that kind of advertising.

Insults, Indicted, Arouse New Interest In Financial Giants

Development Of Utilities Taken By Country As Type Of Business Structure In Days Of Unprecedented Prosperity

Proceedings abroad based upon the desire of authorities in Chicago to bring Samuel and Martin Insull before a court, because of the collapse of a great combination of public utilities, remind the country of a period before the depression, when such business giants held a high place in the public esteem. There is speculation as to how successful the methods employed would have been if the world had not passed through the depression.

The DES MOINES TRIBUNE is reminded of the time in June, 1930, when "a storm of protest arose in the country, because it was learned that Samuel Insull had attempted to censor a speech prepared by Ambassador Sackett for delivery at the world electric power congress in Berlin." The Tribune comments: "It seemed that the Ambassador had planned to make some mention of the spread between production and retail costs of power. Mr. Insull, to be sure, had no real authority over the envoy, but his name was so awe-inspiring in the world of industry and finance that Ambassador Sackett phoned the Berlin newspapers and tried to cancel an original text of his address. Now that Mr. Insull is in Europe with a two billion dollar utilities collapse behind him here, the pressure that he sought to bring upon Mr. Sackett is a little more understandable."

"Much that was concealed by the boiling tide of three years ago now stands forth to mock the shrewd men of business of that fantastic era," says the BALTIMORE SUN, with references to the "pyramiding" which "passed for sound business during the boom," and the conclusion: "Left high and dry on the beach after the tide runs out, the big fish of finance are prey for daws to peck at. Let us not forget that in their heyday most of us accepted what they did without question. Some of us even denounced as Bolshevism those whose sensibilities were a little keener."

"Insull and Insull are kings in exile," declares the HOUSTON CHRONICLE, with the statement as to the reversal in their fortunes: "The rise and fall of the House of Insull will some day form a fascinating chapter in some monumental work of financial expansion during the halcyon days of 1924-25. The collapse of the vast holding companies which bear the name of their founder, the indictments found against them in Chicago as a result of the crash which followed their over-extension, the hurried flight and evident intent to place themselves beyond the reach of prosecution, all will bear out the conviction held by millions during the past decade that the financial operations of large combinations of capital should be rigidly inspected and regulated."

"Ivor Kreuger and Samuel Insull both controlled properties valued at billions a condition hitherto unknown in the history of the world but their rise seems to have been too rapid," observes the PEORIA STAR, with the conclusion that "they were unable to maintain the flimsy fabric of their financial structures." The TEXARKANA GAZETTE holds that "the foresight, the skill, the financial acumen with which Mr. Insull had built up his industrial empire had served merely to erect a top-heavy edifice which went down with a terrible crash when a stiff gale blew." That paper continues: "During the prosperous years Americans got into the habit of over-estimating the value of financial methods. If a man was able to hold the companies together in an endless chain he was claimed as an industrial wizard. It was assumed that the greatest men were those who knew how to do the most tricks with money and credit. Here's a new light on things. The collapse of the Insull holding companies shows that business of pyramiding and interlocking industrial securities is strictly a fair-weather game. Its leaders are not quite the giants they seemed."

Pointing out that "the Insulls sacrificed practically everything they had," the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS advises that they ought to face the court, and emphasizes the contrast between their present situation and that in which they "employed 50 gardeners on the Lake Shore Drive estate, endowed munificently."

Start Work On New Highway Improvement

Lightner Begins Work On Road Leading Towards Brent

Work on the highways under the recent allocation of money to Lawrence county will probably begin early next week, according to H. F. Lightner, county superintendent of highways. The county gets 9.88 miles of new road under the allocation, although there is a possibility that a further addition may yet be made before snow weather sets in.

Among the roads first to be worked upon will be that piece of road in Plaingrove township leading towards Brent, and the road from Energy across to Weigletown. The others will be started as soon as possible after that.

The work this fall will be the grading and ditching and the laying of the base stone. No top will be put on the roads on account of the uncertainty of the weather but the roads will be passable during the winter due to the stone base that will be laid.

The additional 9.88 miles of road allocated to this county will bring the grand total of roads built in Lawrence county in the past 16 months to about 57, a rather unusual mileage for this county.

Joint Installation Service With Auxiliary To Be Held
November 2

Plans were announced for the joint installation of officers of the Harry L. McBride post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and their auxiliary, at the meeting of the vets in the Legion Home association last evening. The installation service will be held on the evening of Wednesday, November 2, and the place will be announced later.

Plans were made for the attendance of the members of the post at the great tri-county Armistice Day celebration which will be held in Butler on November 11. Details of the program were received by the post, and a big time is anticipated. Plans were also made for the organization of a drill team at the meeting last evening, and a committee consisting of James A. Bell, T. John Stoner and Garland S. Crites was named by Commander LaRue to report back at the next meeting.

Amazing Policy Of Old Line Does
Away With Agents And Medical Examination

One of America's strongest old line life insurance companies now brings life insurance within the reach of all. They are offering a liberal policy, which for 3 1/2c a day up, depending on your age, covers death from any cause and pays full benefits of $1000.00, also pays $5000.00 for accidental death. Anyone from ten to sixty years may be eligible. This new policy provides full coverage based on the net cost without medical examination or agents' fees and saves 60% of ordinary selling expense of life insurance. Anyone who will write to the United Mutual Life Company of Iowa, Dept. 4-927 Teachout Bldg., Des Moines, Ia., will receive absolutely free a copy of their wonderful policy that thousands of people have already taken. Just write them today.—Adv.

mittee. The exercises of the day will be in charge of Ralph W. Botsinger, chief clerk and secretary of the Plant Safety Committee.

There will be other speakers and the names of these will be announced later. Mr. Botsinger stated.
All the employees of the plant will be present and in addition there will be a guest list comprising leading citizens of New Castle and Lawrence County.

The trophy is a handsome bronze plaque mounted on black walnut and represents six months of operation for 1932 without a single lost time accident.

Red Hair And Green Lips Latest Beauty Hints For "Milady"

By JOHN P. MEDBURY
Written Expressly for International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Old Man Depression is responsible for the success of the American beauty and styles exposition being held at the Grand Central Palace this week. Times are tough, and instead of discarding their old wives, husbands are having them repainted and making them do for another year.

Sponsors of this beauty exposition have hired world-famous cosmetic experts and tonsorial artists to show the nation how the well-groomed woman should look in 1933.

Red Hair Popular.

Red hair will be the popular shade for the coming year if it makes a difference to you. Green lipstick is another innovation. It has two purposes; it not only looks beautiful on the lips, but is a come-one signal for the boys, letting them know that it's all right to go ahead.

Instead of rouge, however, one old maid uses nothing but red ink on her mouth. She figures her lips have been a total loss to her so far. Modern women are using so many different kinds of varnishes and lacquers on their faces that instead of gin and Scotch, the men are now carrying paint-remover in their

Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

Itching, bleeding or protruding piles go quickly and don't come back, if you really remove the cause. Bad blood circulation in the lower bowel and hemorrhoidal veins causes piles by making the affected parts weak, flabby, almost dead. Salves and suppositories fail because only an internal medicine that stimulates the circulation and drives out the impure blood can actually correct the cause of piles. Dr. J. S. Leonardt discovered a real internal Pile remedy. After success in over 1,000 cases, he named it HEM-ROID. Eckerd's Cut Rate and New Castle Drug Co. and druggists everywhere sell HEM-ROID Tablets with guarantee they will end your Pile misery or money back.

flasks. But you can't blame the ladies; nine out of ten girls have the skin you love to retouch.

1933 will show an entirely new fashion for hair. Coiffures are still led by Mister Marcel, long may he wave. It was surprising, too, to note the number of male visitors who had never heard of this gentleman. Most of them thought that a finger-waver was a hitch-hiker.

Beauty For Men.

This beauty exposition, while catering mostly to the feminine sex, also had many attractions for men. One manufacturer has discovered a method of tinting dandruff for matching different colored coat collars.

Another dealer is giving away a specially prepared chart for sigilos. It tells them how to keep the hair nice and slick and also advises them to change their oil every 2,000 miles.

Court Cases Show Complicated Deal

Curious Mixup Of Deeds And Mortgages In Sale Of Lots To John Wadelka

In an opinion handed down by Judge R. L. Hildebrand today, a rule on the plaintiff to show cause why judgment should not be opened is discharged, in the case of Frank S. Moran against John and Mary Wadelka. The sheriff is directed to proceed with the execution.

The case is one in which Wadelka and his wife purchased three lots from Moran in the North Pittsburgh Realty company plot. Later three more lots were purchased. These lots were originally bought on agreements. Later deeds were made out to Wadelka and his wife for 35 lots. Several mortgages were executed. Mr. and Mrs. Wadelka did not appear to know much about the legal papers. They maintained that they had never bought 35 lots. Mrs. Wadelka, who cannot write her name, says that she never signed the mortgages.

The legal papers were executed before P. E. Moran, a justice of the peace from Westmoreland county and a brother of Frank S. Moran of the same place. The records showed that several mortgages covering the same property had been made. It was explained by the plaintiffs that this was to cover defects. Finally execution was issued on a judgment of $5,980 against John and Mary Wadelka. It was then that they discovered that they had so many more lots than they thought they had. However it was shown that they had entered into possession and had gardened the lots. They claimed that this was by permission of Moran, and they did not know that the lots had been decided to them. Under the court's decision in discharging the rule the lots will be sold on the mortgage.

Plan For Annual Dinner Dance For Members, Their Wives And Families

Regular meeting of The Wolves club held Tuesday evening following a dinner in The Castleton, was well attended. Dr. J. P. Prioletti, the president presided at the affair.

At the business session, a number of matters of importance to the club were considered, among them being the annual dinner dance of the organization, which will be held late in December or early in January. This is the event in which the wives and families of the members participate.

Members of the club in attendance Tuesday were Dr. J. P. Prioletti, D. D. Valensi, Frank Summers, Pat Colucci, E. H. Scarazzo, Attorney Frank Moretti, Attorney Joseph Letta, Jr., James DiLawrence, John Verloti, Dr. John Palazzo, Anthony Sacco, Frank Casimiri, James Colucci, Dominick Guido, Dr. A. M. Perifano, H. A. PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

A COLD PASSES THRU 3 STAGES!

It is Twice as Easily Stopped in the First as in the Second or Third Stages!

A cold passes through three stages—the Dry Stage, the first 24 hours; the Watery Secretion Stage, from 1 to 3 days; and the Mucous Secretion Stage. Once it gets beyond the Dry Stage it is far more difficult to relieve. Therefore, treat a cold promptly.

The best thing you can take is Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine, because it does the four things necessary, in the way required. It opens the bowels. Kills the germs and fever in the system. Relieves the headache and grippy feeling. Tones the entire system and fortifies against further attack.

This is the relief you want—complete, thorough and decisive! Trust to nothing less.

Effective as it is, Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine is absolutely safe to take. No narcotics. No bad after-effects of any kind. Relief with comfort! The whole world knows Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine as the standard cold tablet. Comes in handy, pocket size box, cellophane-wrapped. Get it at any drug store. There is nothing "just as good."

Byers and Moseley Long In Service Of City Departments

Byers In Fire Department For 42 Years—Moseley Has 26 Years Service

No doubt there are some men who have given more than half a century's service to some business or profession but the honor of having served the city longest goes to Duke W. Byers who has been employed for 42 years as a member of the fire-fighting force. He's captain of one turn at Central department.

Duke started as a regular in September of 1889 but according to reports, he had previously seen service.

Another long service member of the city's force is J. L. Moseley, inspector of sewers. He started his career with the city in 1906 and has 26 years service. In those days, according to Moseley all material needed in the division had to be hauled in a wheelbarrow.

Temple Israel Friday Services

Closing Service Of Sukkoth Festival Will Be Held Friday Evening In Temple

Temple Israel, Highland and Moody avenues, will observe the Shemini Azareth Festival (the closing portion of the Sukkoth Festival or Feast of Tabernacles) with a special service on Friday evening, October 21, at 8 p. m., Rabbi Avery Jonah Grossfield officiating. The topic of the sermon will be: "The Unfinished Torah"; and will deal with one of the cardinal principles of Reform Judaism.

The Saturday morning program includes Religious School classes from 9:30 to 11 o'clock, after which the children will join their parents for the Religious Service from 11 to 12 o'clock.

After the Friday evening service the members and friends will enjoy an hour of fellowship in the vestry rooms of the Temple.

The flowers which adorn the pulpit this week are the gift of Mrs. Nanette Linville and Robert Cosel in memory of their father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Max Cosel, the anniversary of whose death occurs this week.

Westminster Head To Conduct Service

Services Preparatory To Holy Communion Will Be Held Friday In First Church

Dr. W. E. McClure, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, announces that Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, head of Westminster College will conduct the preparatory services in his church Friday evening at 7:45.

Sunday morning the observation of the Lord's Supper will be held and there will be reception of new members.

The evening services will be resumed Sunday evening at 7:45 and Dr. McClure will have "Anticipating the Jewish Messiah" as his sermon subject, this to begin a series of sermons on the Life of Christ.

Carnes On Job For 38 Years

Has Served Long Time In Employ Of Local Electric Company

Thirty eight years in the service of one company.

This is the record of Dan Carnes, veteran New Castle division employee of the Pennsylvania Power Company.

He embarked upon his career in 1894 and he is still working for the company and has the honor of being the oldest member of the Order of Spade, a Pennsylvania Power body.

Carnes' first job with the old New Castle Electric company was roofing the old car barn and power house in Mill street. After several similar jobs he started trimming carbons on street lights.

For 18 years he continued at the hazardous job and in those days with modern safety devices unknown he had to have a guardian angel watching over him to keep him away from the danger of shocks.

Carnes got many "bumps" and one might have ended tragically if his horse hadn't taken him, unconscious back to the shop where he was restored to consciousness.

The installation of the incandescent lighting ended his job of cleaning carbons. Since that time he has worked largely in the meter department.

He's keenly interested in the modern development of electric service. One of his pleasures is to go into the country and see the vast network of rural extensions which is shooting out in all directions.

He enjoys looking at the "nice straight poles" and in addition to being the eldest employee of the company is also the eldest member of the Order of Spade.

Americanization School Will Be Started Monday

Announcement was made today by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools that the Americanization school which has been a feature of the New Castle school system for years, would be started again on Monday night, October 24 in the Lincoln-Garfield school.

The school will again be in charge of James H. Hughes and Peter Gritie and all persons interested in enrolling in the Americanization school are asked to be at the Lincoln-Garfield school Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

This school should not be confused with the Unemployed Night school said Dr. Green, as it covers an entirely different field of study.

KIWANIS TO DINE AT HOTEL TONIGHT

A turkey dinner and mock trial will be the highlights of tonight's assemblage of the Kiwanis club for a ladies' night program in The Castleton.

The dinner is to be served at 6:30 o'clock.

"—my skin became clear..."

—and you don't know what a happy day that was in my life." Then why not pause a moment and reason in a common-sense way the cause of many skin troubles. Such common ailments often result because of a lowered resistance below the skin surface—frequently due to lowered blood vitality.

Increase the red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content and more of the life giving oxygen is carried to every part of the body—even to the skin. "Step up" the ability of the resisting cells to devour infectious and pus-forming germs. Then you will have laid the foundation for a sounder physical condition.

S.S.S., in addition to being a valuable general tonic, has the special property of increasing the red-cells and restoring the hemoglobin content of the blood, when deficient. It is time-tested... tens of thousands of unimpeachable letters of gratitude over several generations evidence its merit. Don't let anyone "switch" you in your determination to restore your red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content. VETS CORPS WILL MEET FRIDAY EVE

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Armory on Neshaunock avenue, when final plans for the participation of the corps in the Armistice Day celebration at Butler will be made.

All members are requested to be present on this occasion.

PIMPLES?

Beware of SEPTIC SKIN

Nurse tells how to get clearer, smoother skin almost OVERNIGHT

THE first sign of any of these disgusting
skin faults is a warning
of infection—septic skin.
End them quickly... But you can't do it with ordinary creams. They merely wipe away surface dirt. You need the correct medical treatment to effectively root out all deep-seated impurities that cause these unsightly blemishes.

That's the advice of hospital nurses who have treated thousands of serious skin conditions. In countless cases doctors prescribe Noxzema, the famous greaseless, medicated cream that purges and promotes healing.

Noxzema contains a remarkable blend of scientific medicaments. First it penetrates the pores and cleanses away every particle of clogged, germ-breeding matter that erupts in ugly pimples, blackheads, blemishes. The pores breathe freely—become scientifically pure and clean.

Then Noxzema's mild
astringents gently firm
the enlarged, congested pores and leave the skin far finer and more eventextured—thrillingly smooth and velvety.

No wonder over 6,000,000 women depend on Noxzema for complexion health and loveliness! Your very first application of Noxzema will tell you why. In 8 hours—overnight—it begins to work its beauty magic. The improvement is often astonishing.
Soreness gone, coarse pores reduced,
roughness smoothed away.

To gain a radiantly healthy, appealing young complexion—use Noxzema regularly.

Troop F Has High Standard

Excell Other Units Of State
Cavalry In Drill Attendance And Scholarship

Once again Troop F., has proven itself the outstanding cavalry unit in the Pennsylvania National Guard, excelling in drill attendance and in the number of men who are taking the extension correspondence courses.

Troop F. had a drill attendance record of 95 per cent during the month of September. Troop L., standing second with 92 per cent.

In addition, the Troop had the greatest number of men enrolled in the extension courses, and had the largest number complete the sub-courses during the month.

Capt. James M. Shelton has offered an appropriate trophy to the cavalry unit in the two brigades which he serves as inspector, who attain the most satisfactory and consistent results in the extension school work, and with the good start already attained, Troop F., should win this trophy.

More than one-third of the troop personnel has enrolled in the extension courses, already.

Those who complete the entire course are eligible for a commission in the reserve corps.

Delinquent Tax Penalties $8,840

Delinquent Penalty Abatement
Possible If Tax Paid
Before December

Providing city council adopts the proposed ordinance which provides for the abatement of the city delinquent tax penalty for 1932, which is said to amount to about $221,000, the penalty to be exonerated would amount to $8,840. However, in order to receive the abatement the delinquent tax must be paid before December 1.

The bill was introduced Monday, referred to committee, reported out of the committee favorably and pending final adoption was ordered printed.

One of the provisions of the measure is that a list of unpaid delinquent taxes for 1932 will be compiled and presented to city council December 1.

Until the ordinance becomes effective the city treasurer will not be able to abate any of the penalties.

When the measure was discussed
it was explained that under the law
there could be no refund of penalties already paid on taxes which had become delinquent.

Hoover May Speak In New York City

Announced Today That Hoover
May Speak In New York
On November 1

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—President Hoover probably will deliver a campaign address in New York City on November 1, it was announced at Republican headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria Wednesday.

The plan is subject to change. The President may speak instead in Boston or Newark. The decision is to be made within a few days.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Silas Strawn, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, will head the list of speakers on the national "first voters' night" broadcast Saturday night, Oct. 29.

Mrs. Johnson Describes New Plan Of Giving In Coming Campaign

Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson describes the new plan of giving to the Mayor's Relief and Community Chest Campaign.

Under the leadership of Mr. James M. Smith and an efficient Organization Committee, the campaign has enlisted a fine group of leaders for the various business classifications, to head a plan different from any style of campaign used by the Community Chest in the past.

"This new plan of organization allows us to ask the contributors to make their pledges as though they were giving to eight separate agencies. We are asking prospective subscribers to enter on their blanks the individual amount they would give to each organization if approached separately on eight different campaigns by various persons interested in these organizations.

"One of our greatest troubles, in the past, has been that the subscriber has not clearly understood that each gift must be divided among eight different organizations. Therefore, in some cases the amount pledged has only represented what would have been given to any one agency, if the funds were raised by separate campaigns.

"In these times it is necessary for us to give as much as possible directly to everyone of our member agencies. When you receive your subscription blank be sure to enter the amount you would give if seen separately by persons interested in the Mayor's Relief, Associated Charities, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Margaret Henry Home,
City Rescue Mission, Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A.

"If you will carefully consider this suggestion and subscribe individually to each agency I am sure you will feel that your subscription is a fair one and that you have fulfilled your obligation to each of these agencies for they do individually serve you by serving New Castle."

Christmas Seal Committee Plans For Annual Sale

Determined Effort Will Be Made To Sell More Than Usual

Christmas Seal Committee of the Lawrence County Anti-Tuberculosis
Society of which Mrs. W. A. Pond is the chairman, as a result of the meeting of the committee held Tuesday, is now actively engaged in perfecting the plans made then,
for the annual distribution and sale of the little seals which mean health and happiness to so many people and particularly, small children of the state and community.

Actual sale of the seals will start after Thanksgiving Day and continue until Christmas or at least as long as there is any actual demand for them.

There is more need than ever for the work carried on through the use of funds secured through the sale of these seals and the pennies invested in each one of the seals will mean that much good can be done in Lawrence county during the coming year.

Inspection Of Troop To Be Made

formed.

Drill will be held Sunday afternoon in preparation for the event, which will be one of the few remaining outdoor drills for the Troop, as the approach of winter will probably curtail the outdoor activities of the Troop.

School Heads Of State Discuss Proposed Laws

County School Officials Return From Conference In Harrisburg

County Superintendent of Schools,
John C. Syling and Assistant Superintendent Clare B. Book, have returned from Harrisburg, where they attended a conference held Tuesday by school officials from each county in the state.

The meeting was called by State Superintendent of Education, James N. Rule, to discuss impending legislation which will be brought up at the next session of the legislature, particularly in reference to the Ten-Year plan. This latter proposes consolidations in the county school systems which are expected to effect economies in the administration of school affairs in the state.

While there, approval of the state was secured for the plans of the South New Castle school heating plant, which has been held up by lack of funds.

Let Contract For Heating Plant

South New Castle Board Given Permission To Go Ahead
With Plans

Contract for a heating plant to serve the seven-room school building in South New Castle Borough was awarded by the school board to W. M. Clarke and Co., Inc., at a meeting held last evening. The cost will be approximately $2050.

Plans for the heating plant were drawn by the Thayer Company last August, but the board lacked funds to construct the type of heating plant demanded by the state.

A loan of $2,000 was secured from the State Council, and the plans were revised by the architects.
County Superintendent of Schools
John C. Syling took the matter up with the state department of education Tuesday, and approval of the revised plans was given.

The building will be heated by a steam radiation system.

HUGE STEEL BUYING CAMPAIGN IS LIKELY

Conference May Start Buying

Steel Official And Railroad Heads In Secret Conference In New York

PRICE OF RAILS MAY BE REDUCED

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A huge steel buying campaign by major railroads of the country today was a possibility which promised to boom the steel industry in the near future.

The prospect resulted from a conference yesterday between Myron C. Taylor, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, and a number of eastern railroad presidents.

Secrecy Maintained
Although great secrecy was maintained regarding the discussion, it appeared likely that if the railroads enter into large steel purchases, the price of steel rails may be cut from the basic rate of $43 a ton, which has remained effective for more than 10 years.

Once the railroads decide upon this buying movement, it was pointed out, they would also be in the market for other kinds of steel, in turn, such a market movement in steel would give rise to buying from other quarters, such as the automotive and construction industries.

Roosevelt Told About Triplets

Governor Roosevelt Will Write Letter To Pittsburgh Family

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt is speeding westward today but there's a Pittsburgh home confidently awaiting "recognition" by the Democratic nominee.

Triplets came to the home of Mrs. Anna Henry yesterday. One was named Franklin, another Roosevelt and the girl member of the trio was named Della, a modification of Delano.

The governor was informed of his namesakes by International News Service. He grinned, and exclaimed: "Isn't that great!"

Then, he said: "You may quote me as saying that Mrs. Roosevelt and I feel highly honored."

"But, Governor," the reporter persisted, "what are you going to do about it?"

"Well, I'll have to see Mrs. Roosevelt about that. We'll send the family a token, at least."

"I'll write the mother and father a letter—and the triplets, too."

Jean Harlow Is Named Executrix Of Bern Estate

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—The final chapter in the tragic story of Paul Bern, popular movie studio executive who shot himself to death, had been written today with the appointing of his beautiful platinum blonde wife, Jean Harlow, noted actress, as executrix of the estate.

In a brief ceremony, the will, said to cover insurance and property to a total value of $37,000, was admitted to probate.

Miss Harlow, accompanied by her stepfather, Marino Bello, and her attorneys, slipped quietly into the court house.

No provision was made in the will for Bern's brother or his two sisters. No mention was made of Dorothy Milette, his "phantom bride" of the past whose body was found in the Sacramento river a week after his suicide.

Findley Wilson Plans For Class In Aviation Here

New Castle Airport Ace Transport Pilot Will Teach Aviation Principles To Local Citizens

Findley Wilson, transport pilot at the New Castle airport, is organizing a class in aeronautics for the everyday working man and woman who wants to learn practical aviation both ground and air. There will be an organization meeting tonight at the North street school at 8 o'clock. All those interested in aviation who care to attend are invited. The project has been endorsed by many leading New Castle men.

There will be two courses given; a primary course and advanced course. Each course will consist of twenty lessons covering a period of ten weeks. Instruction will be given in night sessions to be held twice weekly.

The primary course will qualify members to pass the Department of Commerce written examination, for private or limited commercial pilots license, while the advanced course will qualify the student for transport license which is the highest form of license obtainable. This knowledge gained of the fundamental principles of flight will save the student much valuable time when learning to fly. The fee for these courses will be small.

Mr. Wilson requests all those interested in taking advantage of this opportunity to learn the practical side of aviation to be at the meeting tonight. Class sessions will be arranged when it is learned how many pupils will take the course. Those unable to attend the meeting tonight, but who wish to enroll may call Findley Wilson at the New Castle Airport between 4 and 7 p. m. any evening this week. This course is for the air minded citizens of New Castle who heretofore have not had an opportunity of taking up aviation due to the heavy expense connected with the venture, but who realize that aviation although in its infancy is the coming thing.

Claim 270 Electoral Votes Safe For Hoover

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—President Hoover probably will speak in Indianapolis before the close of the campaign, Robert Rufus, executive chairman of the Republican national committee, indicated following a White House visit.

He added, that no definite plans had been made beyond the Detroit address, Saturday night. Rufus said

"purely as a guest," he thought Mr. Hoover might speak in New York and Massachusetts next week. He added that any such arrangements were up to eastern headquarters.

Rufus asserted that 270 electoral votes, four more than necessary to elect, already are safe for President Hoover. The total may go to 340, he said.

The situation is improving very rapidly, Rufus continued.

being a dinner and reception held for State Chairman Edward Martin some weeks ago.

The rally is open to the public, regardless of party affiliations and it is expected that the court room will be packed to capacity, and an overflow meeting is anticipated.

Luther League Members Rally In Bethany Church

The members of Branch 2 of the Pittsburgh district of Luther League met Wednesday evening in the Bethany Lutheran church on East Washington street, with delegations from Trinity church, Ellwood City; Mt. Hope church, St. John's, St. Paul's and Bethany church present.

Trinity church had charge of the devotional opening after which Mrs. A. T. Chamberlain of St. Paul's church, spoke on "Have I a Right to Live My Own Life?" after which a general discussion of this topic was held.

Gladys Blank presided over the business meeting when Mr. Gregory was re-elected president and Miss Blank secretary-treasurer. The group then adjourned to the church parlors where a program of entertainment was presented.

Evelyn McMillin played a piano number; the Misses Kelly, accompanied by Miss Cowen, sang a number; Betty Mae Cope gave several readings; Frank Candiola had some mandolin selections and the program closed with group singing, after which a menu of refreshments was served.

MANIAC VICTIM'S SON HURT IN MINE

MERCER, Oct. 20.—Patsy Cicliani, aged 21, of Leesburg, was brought to the Mercer hospital last evening, suffering from injuries sustained in a fall of rock at the No. 2 Mine.

Examination showed that he had received a compound fracture of the left leg, injuries to his hip, and cuts about the face. He is expected to recover.

Cicliani is a son of Mrs. Pete Cicliani, who was shot and killed by Michael Demofanti, when the latter went insane a year ago last summer, killing a number of people and wounding several others, before he was disarmed.

It does not seem possible to me that persons of mature years can have forgotten the second Cleveland administration. Times during the latter part of President Harrison's term of office were not of the best and all one would hear was that things could not be worse and that the country needed a change. Cleveland was elected and we got a change.

Soup kitchens and bread lines followed and business in every form was at a complete stand-still. Beef and lamb killed and dressed in St. Louis and Chicago were shipped 900 to 1400 miles to Boston and New York and there sold for 3 cents per pound and they were hard to sell at that. I wonder if there are any midwest farmers living today who sold their livestock at that time.
Grover Cleveland was superior to his party and was fought by the Democratic leaders on every occasion where he advocated any progressive measure. Such conditions would again arise in case of the success of the Democratic party. Roosevelt shouts economy and in the

Will Distribute 2000 Quarts Of Milk Daily To Needy Children

Two thousand quarts of milk will be given out daily to needy children in Lawrence county through the agency of the Lawrence County Emergency Relief board. Arrangements were practically completed Wednesday afternoon when the chairman of the board, Senator George T. Weingartner, Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of schools, and all the city principals met in the Administration building of the school system and worked out the details.

It is expected that by Monday the plan will be in operation, with milk stations located at strategic points in the city, each station being located in a school building. The milk will be given out in pints and quarts, depending upon the need and the decision of the school authorities. Children who are under school age who need milk will not be overlooked, and by applying to the school building, the parents can get milk for them.

County Wide
The plan of milk distribution will be county wide. Wherever need is found, milk will be distributed there and Miss Grace Ackerman, state nurse for Lawrence county will be in direct charge of the milk stations. Each morning fresh milk will be delivered to the school-station and there the school authorities will parcel it out to the boys and girls who need it.

The work of getting the stations located, the means of distribution, and the various other details has taken considerable time and has been worked out jointly by A. J. Hauser of the department of health, Miss Ackerman and the other people mentioned above.

While no definite date for starting the milk distribution has been announced, it is anticipated that by Monday or Tuesday of next week it will be in effect.

"Tommy" Armour, Wife, Are Hotel Guests Overnight

"Tommy" Armour, prominent among the brilliant names that form golf's "Who's Who?", was scratched across the registry pad at The Castleton last night. The famous golfer, accompanied by Mrs. Armour, stayed here overnight.

Word of the distinguished golfer's presence spread about thru the city's golfing fraternity only after Armour and his wife had checked out. Hotel clerks said the former British and American open golf champ registered at his home city. Coming here presumably from the Michigan city, the noted golfer and his wife registered at the hotel early last evening. They took dinner in their hotel room.

Armour, as golf history records, has matched his skill with "Bobby"

Jones, Gene Sarazen, Johnny Farrell and Walter Hagen time after time, and frequently victory crowned him. He has participated in some of the most renowned matches played on the links.

Hotel attaches said they did not learn the visitors' destination. They left early today.

VERDICT RETURNED FOR THE DEFENDANT

In the case of Charles T. and Lela Robison against Richard and Rachael Johns, growing out of a dispute over some furniture sold on a lease, which was tried before Judge R. L. Hildebrand, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the defendants.

Highway Users Conference Is Held Here Today

Mercer, Lawrence, Beaver And Butler Counties Represented

The Highway Users Conference was in session here today for the consideration of anticipated legislation that will effect the truck industry and affiliated industrial groups.

Men from Mercer, Lawrence, Butler and Beaver counties representing the petroleum industry, the rubber industry, truck operators, truck dealers, contract haulers and common carriers, were in attendance.

The discussions related to what anticipated legislation will do, not only to the truck industry as a whole, but also to the financial institutions.

The truck industry is holding a special meeting in the Sons of Union Veterans Hall in the city building this evening for the purpose of presenting their side of the controversy now raging over the use of heavy trucks on the highways.

Will Ask Owners To Waive Damages

Petition has been prepared, it is reported, which will request the city to reduce to grade Logan street between Wallace and Lincoln avenue. It is desired to have a grade that will conform with the grade of Wallace and Lincoln avenue at the intersection of Logan street. Waivers of damage forms have been prepared by the city solicitor. If the grading is done damage waivers first will be sought from the property owners.

New Castle-Ellwood Grid Teams Prepare For Game

Schoolboy Teams To End Training Today

Coaches Bridenbaugh and Benedict Give Players Final Instructions

"Whitey" Nickum Injured, Seventh Ward Boy Will Not Be In New Castle Lineup

Six years is a long time to wait, but football fans of Lawrence County have waited patiently for a half a dozen years for the football meeting that will take place Friday night at Taggart Field at 8 o'clock, (weather permitting). It is the New Castle and Ellwood City High grid meeting. Not since 1926 have these two teams faced each other over the white-lined field. Traditional rivals, the contest is sure to be interesting. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh will give his "Red Hurricane" the final once-over tonight. Ellwood City will use the field this evening at 6:30 o'clock for a short practice.

Final Practice Tonight

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner, readily agreed to allow Ellwood City to utilize Taggart Field for a practice session. An act that should cement the friendly feeling existing between the two schools. An act that will show Ellwood that New Castle High welcomes them back to the football arena.

When the schoolboys hustle through their final workout tonight, each coach will know what to expect of his boys on Friday. This football dress rehearsal the night before is similar to the stage dress rehearsal. A good stage producer can always tell from the snap and dash of his preview just what to expect and just how successful his show is going to be. Tonight Coach Bridenbaugh will look over his "Red Hurricane," he will go around and oil up some of the boys, he will adjust here and there, he will formulate his defense and offense.

Test For New Castle

Something seems to tell me that New Castle High is going to have its biggest test tomorrow night. Ellwood City with "Gandy" Benedict at the helm has been pointing for the County Seaters for many a week now. They will be right when they take the field. Ellwood City's line they say is as big as New Castle's. That will make an interesting game. The Ellwood City backfield may not have the speed that the Bridenbaugh boys have, Luxemburg, Ott, Vanderello, Szabak, cannot hope to match heels with Uram, Kominic, Lane, James, Rambo.

Nickum Out Of Game

New Castle enters the big game minus the services of their star halfback "Whitey" Nickum, who will probably not even be in uniform. He is suffering a badly bruised leg. The doctors have ordered him kept out of the game for a week or more. Freddy Lane, the colored speedster or Patsy James, a fleet-footed youth and veteran will probably alternate at the vacant halfback post. Both boys rate starting positions, and it's a toss-up. Anyway Bridenbaugh is well fortified in the backfield.

The rest of the New Castle team from end to end will be the same as started the Washington game. Thomas and Tomalelo, Radkowski and DeCarbo, Shellogg brothers, and Duff.

Coach Benedict is not yet decided upon his starting lineup. He may not even know the exact makeup of the team until an hour before game time.

Aerial Attack

It's just a hunch but it looks as if the game Friday night may be a high one. Both teams have tried and true forward passing combinations. New Castle is well high out of the picture as far as passes are concerned for "Whitey" Nickum was the thrower and he is out of the game. Who will "Bridy" get to heaven then? He doesn't even know the answer himself.

Johnson and Welch the Ellwood City ends will have their work cut out for them. They sat up in the stands last week and watched Uram and Nickum, and Lane and the rest of the boys tearing around the Washington ends. They tried to picture themselves out there. How could one effectively stop that power-house play which sweeps Uram around the end. The more they thought about it the worse the nightmare became. Coach Benedict believes that he has an effective way to stop those wide end runs that have gained so much ground.

Hope For Fair Weather

If the weather man is kind, there is bound to be the biggest crowd of the year at the local beautiful football arena. The prices are the same for this game at 10 cents, 25, 50 and 75.

It's only another 24 hours. Well I would say the wait was worth it. Ellwood City has a splendid coach and they are coming back to the fold. It's bound to be the classic and most colorful game of the year. Better try and arrange to be there. The gates tomorrow night will open at 6:30 o'clock.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

"There were good fighters in the old days and there are good fighters today. In fact I believe the fighters of today are as good as the boys of the old days but the trouble with the boxers of today is that they exert themselves too much. So spoke Jimmie Dunn to the writer a few nights ago. He explained the over-exertion as follows:

"In the old days when a fighter trained for a bout he trained and after he had finished training he went home and rest. He conserved his strength. Nowadays there is too much doing for the boxers. Soon as they leave a gymnasium they plan where they will go; motion picture show, bridge game or some other event. They ought to go home, rest and conserve their energy."

When old timers collect in New York next month to attend the annual Old Glory sale it is likely that the performances of some horses will be recalled. None will be recalled better than Single G. which in 13 years won 64 percent of his races, lowered world's records in a number of events and at the age of 13, he lowered his own record mile with a mark of 1:58 1-2.

He would have been a bargain at almost any reasonable price, yet he was sold in 1911 as a yearling to H. S. Beard for W. B. Barefoot of Cambridge City, Ind., at the ridiculous low figure of $275. He reached the peak of his fame at 11 years when in 1921 he won 15 of 16 races in which he engaged. He was still winning at the rate of more than 1 of every 2 at the age of 15 when he still was able to pace a mile heat in two minutes.

Words have a new and painful meaning for Coach Harold A. Westcott of the West Chester State Teachers College. Put more "pep" into it," he shouted at his charges recently. "Now, let's see you do it," he stated, sprinting down the field as a target. Mike Hudicki, a big guard tackled the coach and the coach now has a broken wrist.

Amos Alonzo Stagg, who is 70 and still plays a smashing game of tennis and teaches football at the University of Chicago says that "If you take life easy you will still be young at three score and 10." Sometime ago he was asked to give his "prescription" for living and he is said to have prescribed as follows.

First of all you must come from a choice stock of parents and your parents must give you a common sense start in life. Then you must learn to understand your own machinery and how to care for it." He prescribed plain, simple foods and said hot dogs are to be avoided. He said he avoided these highly seasoned foods because he wanted nature to do its work as nature intended it should.

"I believe distinctly in temperance in all things. Avoid all excesses. I have never used liquor or tobacco, not even tea or coffee," he said. "My feeling is that I am much better off without these things. They may do you no harm but they do no good." Relative to exercise he said it should be moderate and in keeping with one's own makeup, according to the I. N. S.

"I still am able to work 14 hours a day and I don't see that my vitality is impaired. He said that when he is at mental work and feels groggy he gets up and runs several blocks to work up a new flow of blood. He said he tries to get seven hours sleep each night even though he doesn't always seem to need it. When he arises he goes through 10 minutes sitting up exercise.

Jack Dempsey, killer-type of champion, got as low as $150 a fight and as high as $800,000, for a fight and according to a recent interview he always felt that he was at his peak when he won the title from Jess Willard at Toledo. He rates the present crop of heavyweight fighters in the following order: Schmeling, Sharkey, Poreda, Carnera, Baer, Schaaf and Levinsky.

Elmer Baumgarten, Chicago, will conduct the A. B. C. tourney in 1933. George Studdy, Temple University freshman, weighs 239. Bruno Betzel, manager of Louisville Colonels will continue in the role next year despite the Colonels having landed in eighth place this year. Attendance at Southern association baseball games dropped 24 percent last season. Frank Keeney, New York sportsman has bought St. Johns track operated by the Florida Jockey club.

Shenango To Play Bessemer

County Class B Football Machines Clash Friday Afternoon

WHISTLE TO BLOW AT 3 P. M.

(Special To The News)

BESSEMER, Oct. 20.—Shenango and Bessemer high school football teams, class B aggregations, will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon and although past performances give Shenango the edge Bessemer hopes to turn in a surprise victory.

Bessemer collected their first victory last Saturday over Clintonville. Previously they had lost several games and had been tied in one while Shenango has had no trouble romping away with victories from Zellenople, Slippery Rock and Mercer.

It is likely that Arnold, Seeth and Bruno will be marked gridders when Ed Raney shoots them into action while Plevin, Benson and Marshall will be watched closely by Shenango.

The former trio has been starring consistently while the aerial attack of Bessemer brought them a victory at Clintonville and has been perfected as much as possible the last few days.

The game will start at 3 p. m.

Sacred Hearts Hold Meeting

Sacred Hearts "B" basketball team held a meeting last evening to discuss plans for the coming floor season. The Sacred Heart "B" team was the runner-up last year to the champions. The Sacred Hearts will again enter the Church League.

Plans were made for a better and faster team than they had last season. Stanley Caprowski was selected as coach. Mike DiMuccio was named as captain. The team will likely be composed of the following players: Mike DiMuccio, T. Mastern, V. Bongiovanni, T. Sheldon, A. Bartlett, F. Bongiovanni, J. DiThomas, J. Nigro, J. Zona and F. Vigali. R. P. Vigiano will be the manager of the Sacred Hearts for the season, and hopes to arrange an attractive schedule of games.

May Form Grid Circuit Here

All independent football teams interested in forming a league here in New Castle, are asked to send their representatives to the Sporting Goods Store next Monday night, October 24, at 7:30 o'clock. The announcement of the meeting came from Alec Samuels.

Schmeling May Force Sharkey To Fight Again

Maxie Schmeling Anxious For Another Match With Heavyweight Champion

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Out on the high seas today, one man by the name of Jacobs, the manager of Max Schmeling, is headed for Europe, uttering threats. Back here in New York, another by the name of Johnston, the manager of Madison Square Garden, is voicing defiance.

Meanwhile, tightening about its intended victim is a web of intrigue and the man in the middle is Jack Sharkey, the heavyweight champion of the world. Mr. Sharkey is very much in the middle. In fact, he's due for a pushing around such as no peddler's cart ever knew. Mr. Sharkey being strictly that kind of a champion. He's the first title holder in the history of the heavyweight division who not only can't dictate his own terms but can't even make others abide by theirs.

I wouldn't want to say just what the future means to do about it; in fact, many a card will be dealt from the deck before we see down comes. But, offhand, it now seems possible that it will all wind up by Schmeling fighting Max Baer for Jack Doyle in Los Angeles and then forcing Sharkey to come in here to defend his title at reduced rates. That doesn't sound entirely reasonable, yet it all depends on who holds the winning cards and Sharkey doesn't now.

Gibson Signs With Pirates For One Year

George Gibson Will Manage Pittsburgh Team In 1933

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 20.—George Gibson will pilot the Pittsburgh Pirates again in 1933.

Assurance of this was contained today in a contract signed by the Canuck after a conference with the club management. Although the figure agreed upon remains secret, it is generally believed that a boost over last season's salary was given the erstwhile catcher.

"Nothing pleases me more," said Gibson, "than to be chosen again to serve as manager of the ball team with which I was associated for so many years. It was in Pittsburgh that I began my major league career and I have learned to feel that this is my home."

As to trades, he expressed himself in somewhat indecisive terms, stating he could not say at this time whether or not there would be any involving the Pirates.

New Arrangement For Kid Tickets At Taggart Field

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has a brand new idea for selling tickets to the youngsters who sit in the "Kid" section at the northern end of the field. The admission price remains at 10 cents for all under 12 years of age.

Here is the new arrangement—All children wishing to see the game are to buy their tickets at the Division street booth and pass into the game at the double gate right directly adjoining the ticket booth. Heretofore all children have been admitted at the gate at the northern end of the stadium, and this method was found impractical as many older boys were trying to get in the children's gate.

For the New Castle-Ellwood City game Friday night all children will be required to have tickets.

Franklin A. C. Tops Forest Eleven 13-0

Franklin A. C. football team handed the Forest A. C. team a 13 to 0 setback Wednesday afternoon at the Paul Street field. Quinn scored both touchdowns for the Franklin eleven. Whitman also played good football. The best bet in the Forest A. C. lineup were T. Cooper, Padula, Stoner and Young. Aiken made one of the points after touchdown. The Franklin A. C. scored one touchdown in the second quarter and the other in the fourth period.

RADIO VOTE TO BE TAKEN IN DECEMBER

Banning the radio from the American League baseball parks next season will come up for serious consideration when the moguls meet in annual session this December, according to President William Harridge. He said at Chicago yesterday there is growing sentiment against broadcasting of baseball games.

MIDGETS TAKE FORFEIT.

Forest A. C. Midgets football team won a forfeit from the Allen Street Stars when they failed to show up for a scheduled game at the Paul Street Field Wednesday.

Southpaw Style Hard To Solve

Dunn Teaches Protoges To Make 'Em Miss And Use Right

CHENEY AND BROWN WERE LEFT-HANDED

"How do you best fight a southpaw? Do you keep on top of him and feed him right hand punches or do you move away from him and when he misses nail him with a right hand on the chin?"

This query was put to Jimmie Dunn, astute trainer Wednesday night during the Babe Triscara-Johnny-Edwards fight at Johnstown which the Babe won by an edge.

"There is no set method of beating them. There are some mighty good southpaws. The best way to bring their downfall is to make 'em miss and feed 'em right hand punches."

That was Dunn's reply. It is interesting in view of the coming match next Wednesday between his right handed lightweight, Durable Mickie Duris of Cleveland and Frankie Bojarski, Erie southpaw of Jack Barry.

Recalls Cheney-Kilbane

Years ago Dunn developed and piloted Johnny Kilbane into the featherweight championship of the world. As time wore on George Cheney, Baltimore southpaw, demanded a titular match.

For weeks prior to the championship match which occurred at Cedar Point speculation was rife as to "Can a good right-handed fighter (Kilbane) beat a good southpaw (George Cheney)?"

There was plenty of money placed on the result and the boys stepped out into a sun-baked ring to settle the question. If recollection serves correctly Matt Hinkle was the referee.

The fight didn't go far. In fact, it went three rounds when the holder of the championship dropped George with a right hand clout on the chin. But this doesn't mean a thing if one considers the fight between the former blonde lightweight, Knockout Brown of New York and the ranking fighters of his day.

Southpaws Dangerous.

Brown slammed them around plenty and by recalling fights in our own backyard some continue to remember Rosy Stoy's battle with Mog Pugh at the Opera house.

Mog wasn't such a bad fighter. His style puzzled many foes. However, when he entered against the Lancaster Dutchman, Mog did not know what to do or else couldn't and took a lacing.

Dunn believes that Duris is a great lightweight and likes right handers, but what about left handers? Well, he manages one, none other than Ross Fields.

And it is with Ross as a training partner that Mickie will try to learn how best to combat Frankie Bojarski, sensational Erie scrapper, when they meet here next Wednesday night.

Terry to Return.

Meanwhile Bojarski is in the thick of training at Erie. His manager, Jack Barry, a second Jack Kearns in attire and manners, believes he will some day ascend to the lightweight throne.

There's going to be a hot semifinal. Everybody around here remembers the days of a year ago when Young Terry of Akron was whipping 'em over at the bowl.

He has 24 knockouts to his credit. Being only 20 years old and filled with pep he intends to battle Marty Toukamon, one of the fastest fights Touk' had in some months.

It was difficult to obtain an opponent for Toukamon. Boys who wanted to fight him or were either too good or not considered good enough. Finally Young Terry took the fight.

Honor Sorto Who Turns Eighteen

High School Varsity Football Team At Spaghetti Supper

Louis Sorto, member of the football squad at New Castle high was honored at a surprise party, which included a spaghetti supper, given by his mother, Mrs. Grace Sorto, 515 South Mill street last night. Members of the high school varsity football eleven, Coach P. H. Bridenbaugh, Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner, B. J. Biondi and Ed Fritz were present. The affair was in honor of Louis' eighteenth birthday.

Injuries kept Kolodjeski and Nickum from being present but had they noticed the ease in which their varsity pals last night gained yardage when they staged an offensive against the deliciously prepared spaghetti and meat balls, they would have small doubts of gaining ground against teams.

The members of the varsity follow: Thomas, P. Shellogg, Radkowski, Duff, De Carbo, A. Shellogg, Tomalelo, Rambo, Uram, Kominic, Lane, James and the honor guest Sorto.

Football was discussed after the dinner and while Ne-Ca-Hi is pointing for Altoona, Coach Bridenbaugh warned them against becoming conceited in games previously.

He said that the Red and Black could expect a hard game with Ellwood City. He declared Ellwood would present an imbued eleven and one that would provide plenty of opposition.

Giuseppe Tartini, Italian composer, discovered the combination tones, in 1714, and used them in making perfect purity of intonation.

John Bull, a popular synonym for the English people, made its first appearance in 1712 in a popular print entitled, "Law is a Bottomless Pit."

Stagg May Get Berth At Yale

Coach Alonzo Stagg May Go Back To School Where He First Learned Football

ALUMNI WORKING TO GET STAGG

By LEO FISCHER
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—Amos Alonzo Stagg, Chicago's "Grand Old Man," may finish his athletic career where it began almost a half century ago—and the historic surrounding of Yale University.

From reliable sources, it was today learned that there is a strong movement gaining headway among Yale alumni to bring Coach Stagg back to New Haven when his retirement becomes effective at Chicago next June.

Yale graduates in the Middle West are the leaders in the movement, which will be brought officially to the attention of President James R. Angell when he comes to Chicago November 1 for the annual Yale alumni dinner.

Alumni Working Hard
Yale's athletic structure has recently undergone a tremendous upheaval and the end apparently is not yet in sight.

Just where Mr. Stagg would fit in the Yale athletic camp, is hard to say, but the alumni who are sponsoring the move are confident that he would be a great asset to the new regime.

Coach Stagg graduated from Yale with an athletic record that has scarcely been equalled before or since his time. He was a member of the Yale baseball team from 1884 to 1890, and pitched the Blue to five successive baseball titles from 1886 to 1890.

In 1884 and 1885, Mr. Stagg was a member of the Yale football team, then dropped out of the sport for two years and returned to play from 1888 to 1890. In 1889 he was selected as end on the first "All-America" team.

It is known that the old man would not be averse to return to Yale. Like all sons of Eli, he still cherishes a love in his heart for his alma mater.

Why blame congress for failure to relieve all of the unemployed? It was quite a task to relieve the unemployed members of their own families.—The Oklahoma City Daily Oklahoman.

Senator Bingham Plans Beer Bill

Connecticut Senator Would Legalize 4 Per Cent Beer To Gain Revenue

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—A bill to legalize 4 per cent beer, while slashing some of the present high Federal taxes, will be introduced by Senator Bingham (R) of Connecticut, as soon as congress reconvenes.

Bingham made this announcement today. He said the bill, if enacted, would make legalized beer subject automatically to the existing Federal tax of $6 a barrel. This would furnish the government with at least $375,000,000 in revenue, he added, permitting a like reduction in other Federal taxes. He hinted at the possibility of a reduction in Federal income taxes.

"I shall introduce a 4 per cent beer bill as soon as congress meets," said Bingham. "It will furnish the government with about $375,000,000 in revenue and help meet the deficit or let us abandon some Federal taxes."

Joe Kolodjeski Resting Easily

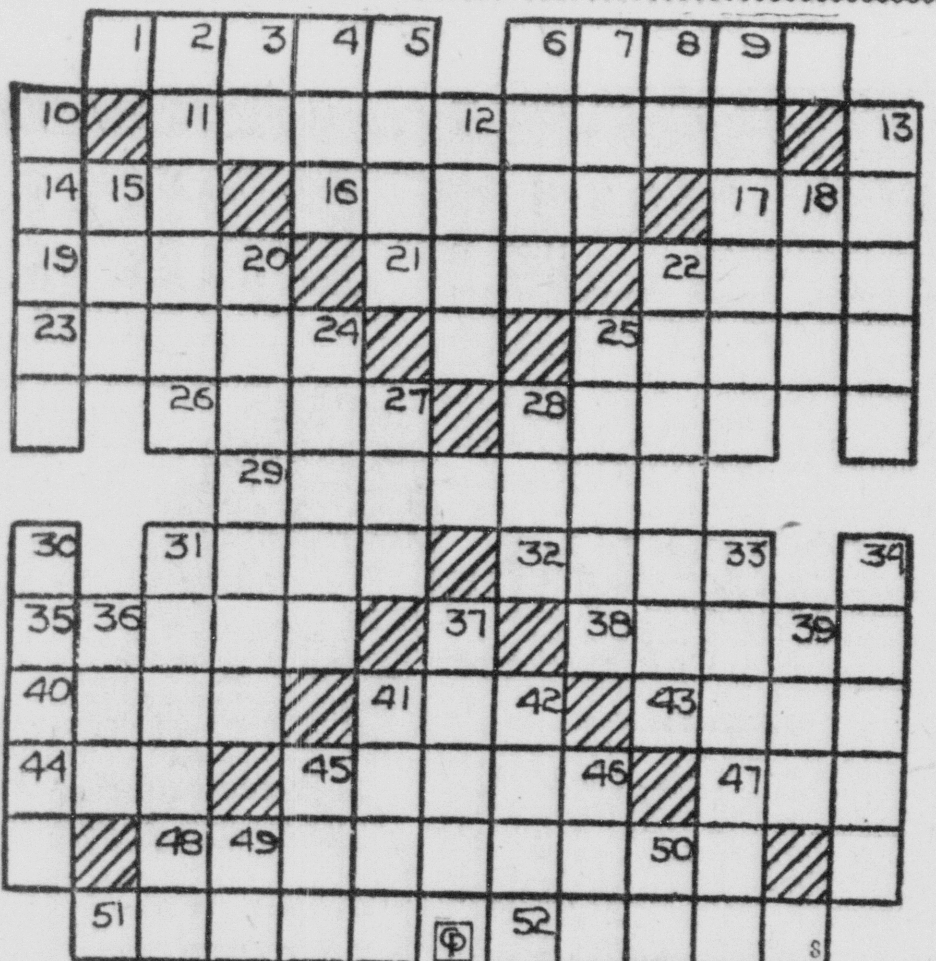

Joe Kolodjeski, injured New Castle High school football player, has been removed to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kolodjeski, 1301 Moravia street. He was taken to the New Castle hospital September 30.

The big injured fullback saw his first football game in three weeks last Friday night when Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner took him to the game and Kolodjeski occupied a seat on the New Castle High bench with his leg all done up in a cast. He walks with the aid of crutches. Kolodjeski is hopeful of being allowed to play for a few minutes in the final game of the year with Turtle Creek.

JEFF ROBBINS WIN.
Jeff Robbins, eleven, handed the Williams Reserve an 18 to 6 setback in a football game played at the Scioto Street Field. Budal scored the first touchdown for the Williams Reserve. The scores for the Jeff Robbins team were made by Tomaszewski, M. Othites and "Naggy" Nogera. For games with the Jeff Robbins call 1914-R and ask for Louis Robbins.

COUNCIL MEETS

The regular monthly meeting of the Borough Council was held in the City building on Tuesday evening.
The members were all present.Mr. Reed of the Harmony Short Line Motor Transportation Company was in attendance by request of the Council. For some time the Council has considered that the present bus schedule was not satisfactory and Mr. Reed promised them that two more buses would be added to the schedule.R. M. Morganstern of Pittsburgh, purchaser of the rails and bridges of the Pittsburgh, Butler and Harmony R. R. Company asked for permission to transport his equipment through the Borough for the purpose of taking up all of the rails.
This request was granted. It was also proposed that the holes be filled in by him after the removal of the rails.Estimates and survey have been asked for the proposed sewer on

Three Hundred Meet To Honor Pastor And Wife

Surprise Reception On Wedding Anniversary Given At Methodist Church

Members of the Mahoning M. E. church and guests numbering about 300 very delightfully surprised Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Downing on their wedding anniversary Wednesday evening during and following prayer meeting.

The members of the Presbyterian and Christian churches joined with the Methodist congregation in a union prayer meeting and the Methodist people were glad to have them stay and enjoy the evening with them.

Rev. W. W. Sniff, pastor of the Christian church, led the prayer meeting. At the close he turned the meeting over to Q. E. Davy, superintendent of the Mahoning M. E. Sunday school, who, after calling Rev. and Mrs. Downing to the pulpit, presented them with a very nice table cloth from the congregation as a token of their love for their leaders.

The Sunday school orchestra played during the prayer meeting. Later the program continued in the church dining room where refreshments were served. The program was as follows:

Selections by Sunday school orchestra.

Quartet—Mrs. W. H. Mauermann, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnston, M. C. Adams.

Reading—Mrs. Kinsey.

Duet—Lulu Bell and Doris Gillette.

Selection—Puddle Jumpers.

Poem—Written and given by Robert Tackitt.

Selection—Male quartet.

Short and interesting talks by Dr. C. G. Farr, district superintendent, New Castle district of the M. E. church; Rev. W. W. Sniff of Christian church and Rev. D. C. Schnebly of Presbyterian church. Rev. W. H. Downing then thanked all for a wonderful time.

Observations In 7th Ward

Cement is already laid on the new bridge deck at Willow Grove and the concrete work on the approaches will be underway soon. . . . That means traffic will be detoured for a period of nearly three weeks. . . . Probable detour route will be from top of Mt. Jackson hill over "legion path," and coming out at the small cement bridge on the Moravia road at Willow Grove. . . . The old tailor shop beside the Mahoning Trust Company on Liberty street will be practically down by the time you read this. . . . A young lady in flaming red pajamas was seen walking downtown yesterday. . . . That tricky word "wiener" is not spelled correctly in the window of a local butcher shop, we notice. . . . Man on North Cedar street was pitching horseshoes yesterday. . . . Was alone but seemed to be enjoying the game.

Holy Name Rally To Attract Many

Catholic Parishes Of Lawrence County Will All Be Represented

Final arrangements have been completed for the annual rally of the Holy Name Societies of the Catholic Parishes of New Castle and Lawrence county at Penn Theatre, at 8 p. m. Sunday evening, October 23. The details were worked out at a meeting held Tuesday night in St. Mary's Auditorium.

Committees representing the various parishes with the exception of three not yet heard from, have assured those in charge of an attendance of between 110 and 1200 men on this occasion.

The contingent of St. Vitus Parish, three hundred strong will march from the church to the theatre.

The various committee chairmen are as follows: James T. Carey, general chairman; Dr. J. Lumen Popp, chairman of the ushers; Frank S. Gribben, music; Leo Moosman, program; Thomas Cunningham, stage; John Newman, theatre; Joseph T. Dittley, publicity.

Chairmen for the various parishes are as follows: St. Vitus and St. Lucy, Jake DeFonso, St. Monica, Wampum, John Biebecker; Saints Philip and James, Frank Dolba; St. Michael, Joseph Kolvaalek; St. Mary's, Thomas Martin; St. Margaret, Matthew Jordan; St. Joseph, John J. Seger; St. Agatha's and Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, James Byers; Holy Cross, West Pittsburgh, John Ellessner.

Parades that included marching thousands with flaming torches on their shoulders, and garbed in capes and hats. Fancy came with the pictures of the candidates on them.

Jack Gettings was reminiscing on the old time parades the other afternoon and went back to the silk hat days when no parade was anything at all until every marcher had on a silk hat. Some of the boys might have just exchanged a sweat cap in the mill for the silk tile, but they wore them and marched miles.

Young as we are we can remember some of those old timers as they trudged through the streets, faces soaked with perspiration and clothes soaked with kerosene oil from the dripping lamps. Perhaps they didn't prove anything with their parades, perhaps there wasn't any logic in them, but boy they put on a show.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

Down South Side way the preparations for the usual Halloween celebration are going forward as though things were normal. The committee in charge refuses to believe that such celebrations can't be put on this year as successfully as ever, and is going ahead. And the interesting thing is that their plans are meeting with the usual success and the crowd that will attend is going to jam Slabtown to gunwhales.

The parade has come to be an annual custom down there, as much of a custom as your birthday or any other such time. For one evening they throw away dignity and everybody just acts their age, their age for the evening being about 12 or 14. It's a good thing for everybody. Dignity doesn't suffer a whit by being parked for a while and the youngsters get a chance to let off a lot of steam that otherwise might find vent in tearing off a front porch.

When New Castle and Ellwood City resume relations Friday night on the football field, there will be one spectator who is going to be as neutral as a nation without a navy. That's the Peck Lee, the county detective.

Peck is an Ellwood City product, coached the Ellwood team for a number of years and now resides in New Castle. And in the days when he handled the reins of Ellwood City high football team he had a knack of being able to pick them. Mac-Murdo, Applebaum, the Johnstons, these and a host of others who were always making it tough for anybody they played.

Anyway, this column is glad that relations have been resumed in football. Whatever the score is Friday night, it is the beginning of another series of county team games and we hope the series continues for many years.

Modern invention has taken a lot out of the modern presidential election. Fast newspaper service brings you the speeches of candidates and their pictures, and the radio gives you a front seat at the meetings. Just for one presidential campaign we'd like to see the old fashioned plans used. Some of the plans that included parades and red fire and broad brimmed campaign hats.

Parades that included marching thousands with flaming torches on their shoulders, and garbed in capes and hats. Fancy came with the pictures of the candidates on them. The speaker had to be able to battle against the elements and a flock of hecklers.

Henry Ford Declares Hoover 'Kept His Head' When Others Lost Theirs

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Oct. 20.—President Hoover, who today is "carrying a greater burden than Abraham Lincoln carried" in a way that "places him beside Lincoln in sacrificial service," should be re-elected, Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, declared in a nationwide radio broadcast.

"Why bring in a new recruit," Ford, speaking before the microphone from his Dearborn office last night, said.

"Why retard the seasoned leader, especially since President Hoover has already got the massive forces of defense and recovery into action?"

Pleads For Hoover.

Ford's country-wide appeal to the people to select Hoover again as their chief executive because the president earned the right to stay on the job by his success "in turning the tide of the depression" was the first political speech Ford delivered on the air. He said:

"We automobile workers say this: 'Herbert Hoover can not work miracles, but he had the opportunity to make some colossal and disastrous mistakes. He was clutched from every side to do panic-stricken things, but Mr. Hoover kept his head when others lost theirs.

"No act of his has been dictated by panic or politics. And the result is we are now beginning to feel the lifting power of his well-thought out program."

port in returning Mr. Hoover for another term.

"I am not so much interested in totals now as in trends," he said. "There I note a rising tide of sentiment in President Hoover's favor. Since the party conventions at Chicago I have crossed the country three times and have seen this same feeling manifesting itself, namely, that the people are deciding to keep on the job who is there now.
